Application for Membership

NYSBA

Why join the New York State Bar Association's Commercial and Federal Litigation Section?

Membership in NYSBA's Commercial and Federal Litigation Section is a valuable way to:

- Network with other top-notch practitioners and judges.
- Attend outstanding MCLE programs at discounted rates.
- Comment on pending legislation and recent developments in case law and practice.

Committee Involvement and Section Meetings

Committees serve as the laboratory for much of the Section's greatest work: reports, comments on pending legislation or rule changes, and receptions with leading figures in a practice area or in the judiciary. The Section's 30 committees range from Complex Civil Litigation and Employment/Labor Relations to Federal Procedure, Intellectual Property, and many others. Two Section-wide meetings, one in the spring and one in January in connection with the Association's Annual Meeting, provide opportunities to both experienced and novice practitioners to enhance skills and network with others.

Educational Programs and Professional Resources

Take advantage of NYSBA's mandatory continuing legal education programs at reduced member rates. Continuing legal education programs provide outstanding ways to stay abreast of new developments affecting your profession.

The Commercial and Federal Litigation Section promotes research, and publishes and distributes educational materials to keep Section members up-to-date on current issues and developments in the law.

The Section also publishes two, bi-annual newsletters, the Commercial and Federal Litigation Newsletter and the NYLitigator. These publications are distributed free of charge as a benefit of Commercial and Federal Litigation Section membership.

The Commercial and Federal Litigation Section area of the NYSBA Web site, www.nysba.org/ComFed, includes substantive case reviews from Lois LawWatch, a comprehensive listing of links relevant to the Section, and online access to Section publications, special reports, and a calendar of events.

Legislative Action

NYSBA's Commercial and Federal Litigation Section actively develops new legislative proposals on both the state and federal level. Section members monitor and comment upon pending legislation which affects the profession and public at large.

A Voice within the Profession
