* The enclosed payment representing reimbursement for lost wages includes a setoff for New York State Disability Benefits (DBL) you have received. If those disability benefits are subject to withholding tax for FICA and/or income tax, you may be entitled to an additional amount of lost wage benefits from the no-fault carrier, which may be up to 12% of the enclosed check. No additional benefits can be payable, however, unless proof is submitted to the no-fault carrier by you as to the taxability of the disability benefits you received. This proof shall include a check stub for disability benefits which shows taxes withheld, a W-2 form which reports disability benefits as income, or other acceptable proof.

NYS DBL - 50% AWW - 26 wks - 1st week waiting period.

NYS WC - 2/3 AWW - 7-day waiting period unless disability exceeds 14 days.

A statement of disability from your treating doctor must be received each month prior to issuance of wage reimbursement.
