Jennifer Andalaro is an associate attorney at the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation where she is the Section Chief in the Remediation Bureau. Specifically, her program work focuses on the implementation and enforcement of the New York State Superfund and Brownfield Cleanup programs. Prior to joining NYSDEC, Ms. Andalaro served for five years as the Assistant Town Attorney for the Town of Southold on Long Island, where she was special counsel to the Town Planning Board and Zoning Board of Appeals and provided legal advice on land use and zoning matters. She earned her B.A. from SUNY Binghamton and her J.D. degree from Pace University School of Law.
