Since 2007, Ms. Yang started to serve companies and individuals for employment and business based immigration matters. After graduation from law school, Ms. Yang worked at three successful and highly reputable law firms in the financial district and midtown of Manhattan, focusing on employment-based immigration cases. She quickly distinguished herself by her ability to analyze and strategize cases both vertically and horizontally by utilizing her internationalized knowledge and skills of various types of non-immigrant and immigrant visa petitions.

Ms. Yang is proficient in handling a high volume of employment-based cases at any of their filing stages, including initial USCIS filings, USCIS RFE responses, DOL audits and appeals before AAO and BALCA. She was responsible for supervising high-volume H-1B filings and establishing departmental PERM filing procedures. Meanwhile, Ms. Yang is highly skillful in strategizing and preparing EB-1A/EB-1B, L-1A/L-1B, O-1A/O-1B and E1/E2 cases. Among many high-profile cases handled by Ms. Yang, one landmark case in the U.S. immigration history was featured by the CBS news, NBC news, www.nydailynews.com, LexisNexis Legal Newsroom-Immigration, www.news.xinhuanet.com and other major media.

Over the years, Ms. Yang has successfully worked with professionals in more than 70 different categories of occupations from over 20 different fields/industries.

Ms. Yang is a member of the New York State Bar Association, New York City Bar Association and a member of the International Section of the New York State Bar Association. Ms. Yang is a lecture speaker at New York State Bar Association event and New York University School of Law.

Ms. Yang speaks English and Mandarin Chinese.
