

Siobhan O'Grady was graduated from Pace University in 2001 with a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice and Pace Law School in 2004. An Assistant Corporation Counsel in the Bronx County Family Court Division of the Law Department of the City of New York since September 2004, Ms. Grady prosecutes juvenile delinquency cases as well as high-profile arson and firearms cases. She is a member of a panel to improve investigations and prosecutions by enhancing communication and cooperation between the Law Department and the New York Police Department. She also chairs a subcommittee of another panel that conducts presentations in Bronx middle schools and high schools on firearms awareness and crime prevention. She participates in career fairs in high schools in the Bronx and has taken part in the nationwide anti-crime initiative known as National Precinct Night Out, helping police precincts in the Bronx provide information to residents there about steps they can take to keep crime under control in their neighborhoods.
