

New York State Bar Association

Committee on Media Law

Tuesday, January 25, 2011 2 - 4 p.m.

Hilton Hotel, 1335 Avenue of the Americas; New York, NY 10019

It's 11:00 P.M. — Do You Know What Your Children Are Saying Online? Student Free Speech Rights in the Age of Facebook, Twitter and Other Social Media

This program, co-sponsored by the Media Law and Law, Youth and Citizenship committees, will address the First Amendment rights of students in the digital age.

Topics:

- Overview of court decisions involving the off-campus use of the Internet and social media by students
- Legal implications of cyberbullying
- Issues arising from so-called "sexting" behavior

The interactive session will cover matters of interest to lawyers whose practices involve free speech issues, school counsel/administrators/educators, the law enforcement community and, more broadly, the parents of any student who communicates with peers online. Open to educators.

Also of interest to educators . . .
