Lisa Saltzman is a supervising attorney at Queens Law Associates and Director of their DWI Unit. She specializes in representing individuals accused of DWI and driving related offenses, as well as handling all types of criminal cases. She is a graduate of Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law and has taught as faculty during their ITAP program. She is also an Adjunct Professor at Seton Hall Law School, where she teaches law students Persuasion and Advocacy. She has completed the NHTSA DWI/SFST student course, a course recognized by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, in the administration of standardized field sobriety testing in DWI arrests. She is a member of the National College for DUI defense and a graduate of their Summer Session at Harvard Law School. She regularly lectures on the topic of DWI defense and also teaches attorneys on how to handle all aspects of DWI cases, from arraignment to trial.
