The NYSBA Antitrust Section Mergers Committee invites you to a telephonic program as part of our “Associate Series” focused on economic analysis in merger matters. Our panel, featuring two seasoned economists with experience across an array of industries and transactions, will discuss fundamental economic principles such as market definition, market power, competitive effects, and efficiencies. The program will provide a helpful introduction to economic principles and techniques that come up routinely at all stages of the merger process (including pre-deal, Second Requests, and merger litigation). Knowing the basics of these economic concepts will help associates work more effectively and collaboratively with economists, leading to more success for their clients, their firms, and in their own career development.
