As the world becomes more digital, individual privacy becomes increasingly difficult to maintain. From banking and financial data, to personal business and family matters, the amount of information that is breached, hacked or illegally shared continues to rise. To compound these issues, personal data regulation standards currently differ in the US and EU.

AmCham Sweden, International Chamber of Commerce Sweden, and New York State Bar Association invite you to learn what Google, Facebook and other online companies are doing to prevent others from accessing valuable information that you'd like to keep to yourself. And discover what this can mean for the future of businesses and investors on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean.

Our Speakers and Panel of Experts Include:

Facebook: Thomas Myrup Kristensen, Director, Public Policy Nordics, Eastern Europe and Russia

Google: David Mothander, Nordic Policy Counsel

Klarna: Caroline Olstedt Carlström, Chief Counsel Global Data Protection and Chairman of Swedish Data Protection Forum

Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP: Eric Stenshoel, Partner, New York City

EY: Erik Skoglund, Partner and Nordic Fraud Investigations and Dispute Services Leader, Stockholm

Osborne Clarke: James Mullock, Partner
