For Your Practice

As an attorney, you're focused on protecting the rights of your clients. But, you need to be just as concerned about protecting your own firm and employees. Consider these options...

- Lawyers' Professional Liability – Coverage to help protect your new firm against costly legal malpractice lawsuits.
- Workers Compensation – In some jurisdictions, this coverage is mandatory for practices with as few as a single employee.
- Business Owners Insurance – Core business coverage, including building and business personal property, employee dishonesty, and business liability.
