Courtney serves as lead strategy counsel for her clients' most high-stakes and sensitive litigation matters. She is an aggressive litigator with a strong track record of obtaining exceptionally favorable settlements for her clients, including after taking over and re-framing cases that have proceeded far down another path.

Regularly named one of the top lawyers in the New York Metro Super Lawyers magazine, Courtney serves as District Leader for New York's Ninth Judicial District and is a member of the Executive Committee of the New York State Bar Association's Commercial and Federal Litigation Section. She also is part of the data privacy and cybersecurity team, providing crisis management and response guidance to the firm's clients.

Courtney's representative clients include Tory Burch LLC, Ron Howard, Sony Corp. and its U.S. affiliates, Fox Paine & Company, Omni Healthcare, Inc., Freestream Aircraft (Bermuda) Limited, and Zurich Financial Services Group.

Courtney's experience includes:

- Representing newly appointed directors of Viacom, Inc., in connection with multi-state stockholder litigation
- Represented Sony Pictures Entertainment in connection with unprecedented cyberterrorism and hacking incident
- Represented Tory Burch LLC, in intellectual property and partnership dispute with Christopher Burch, and served as lead strategy counsel in litigation against largest counterfeiter of Tory Burch jewelry in the world
- Representing numerous private equity companies in major co-founder disputes and separations
- Successfully defended major motion picture studio against claims of copyright and trademark infringement asserted by the owners of intellectual property licensed to the studio
- Represented numerous clients in connection with New York state and federal civil and criminal investigations into family office/investment manager Kenneth I. Starr

- Represented television network in successful challenge to copyright protection over one of the most famous speeches in history
