

Dorna Moini
CEO and Founder
Documate

Dorna Moini is the CEO and founder of Documate, the most secure and easy-to-use document automation platform for lawyers and their clients. Documate allows attorneys to turn form and template documents into intelligent workflows, dramatically reducing the time to generate document sets. Prior to starting Documate, Dorna was a litigator at Sidley Austin, where her pro bono work inspired her to build software that would streamline the document-creation process.
