Jamie A. Rosen is an Associate at Abrams, Fensterman, Fensterman, Eisman, Formato, Ferrara, Wolf & Carone, LLP. Ms. Rosen is admitted to practice law in the State of New York and New Jersey.

Ms. Rosen's practice is primarily focused on Mental Health, Health Care and Elder Law. As part of the firm's Mental Health Law practice, the only family-focused mental health practice in the country, she helps individuals and families navigate the complicated legal and mental health systems. Ms. Rosen handles Article 81 guardianship proceedings, involuntary psychiatric treatment and retention hearings, Kendra's Law applications (Assisted Outpatient Treatment), mental health warrants and Family Court Orders of Protection matters, as well as other civil litigation and negotiation specific to mental health and/or substance abuse issues. She also represents mental health and health care professionals, major hospital systems, and higher education institutions.

Ms. Rosen is eligible for court appointments in Nassau County, New York County, Queens County and Suffolk County as Court Evaluator and Attorney for the Alleged Incapacitated Person pursuant to Part 36 of the Rules of the Chief Judge of the New York State Unified Court System.

Ms. Rosen was selected as one of the 2018 Outstanding Women in Law - Emerging Leaders by the Maurice A. Deane School of Law at Hofstra University. She has been designated as a "Rising Star" in New York Health Care Law by "Super Lawyers" since 2017.

Ms. Rosen was a Guest Editor for the Family Court Review Special Issue on Mental Illness in the Family published in January 2016. Ms. Rosen also received attribution for her contributions to numerous articles that are published in professional journals and newspapers including the Nassau Lawyer, NYSBA Elder and Special Needs Law

Journal, NYSBA Health Law Journal, The Journal of Criminal Law and Criminology of the Northwestern University School of Law, Family Court Review, NYSBA Family Law Review, the New York Law Journal, and The Risk Management Quarterly.

Ms. Rosen is an Adjunct Professor at the Maurice A. Deane School of Law at Hofstra University, co-teaching Law & Psychiatry in Spring 2020. She was also an Alumni Instructor to a group of second year law students enrolled in the skills course "Foundational Lawyering Skills" from 2015 to 2018.

Ms. Rosen received her J.D. from Maurice A. Deane School of Law at Hofstra University with a Concentration in Child and Family Advocacy. She was an Associate Editor of the Hofstra Law Review and Vice President of the Hofstra Trial Advocacy Association.
