

Celebrating Over 30 Years — Corporate Counsel

Exclusive Publications and Online Resources

NYSBA's Corporate Counsel Section keeps you informed on the latest updates that matter most to in-house counsel with its newsletter Inside which features articles on timely case studies, practical hints, and legal developments. Members may also submit articles for possible publication.

As an exclusive member benefit, Section members can access the complete current edition of Inside as well as searchable articles from back issues that include links to cites and statutes, all via the Section's dedicated area of the NYSBA website: www.nysba.org/corporate.

Other resources available on www.nysba.org/corporate include a searchable Section directory, a corporate pro bono model, committee rosters, substantive case reviews from Loislaw LawWatch based on Section interests, links to join the Section's Facebook page and LinkedIn group, and videos including some from authors in the latest issue of Inside on topics such as the option of investment arbitration and international transactions.

Rewarding Opportunities for Professional Growth

Enhance your knowledge and expertise by participating in professionally stimulating and informative Section activities. Through outstanding events members are able to examine today's vital legal developments. The Section also produces MCLE programs for members at special member rates. Section members develop career strategies, work with colleagues who share their interests, and network with the Section's large number of experienced practitioners in many different legal specialties. Interested members can also become actively involved in the Section's governance.

The Corporate Counsel Section also addresses major professional issues that affect in-house practitioners, and advocates those positions within the NYSBA, to the legislature, and to the public.
